

DEBORAH LOPEZ
VICE PRESIDENT
NATIONAL COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN
SAN FRANCISCO

Deborah Lopez has served as the Vice-President of NCJW for the last 6 years bringing decades of experience in the non-profit Jewish world to our Board. She has served as the President of Hadassah San Francisco chapter and currently is the Vice-President of the Board of San Francisco Hillel as well as being involved with the Jewish Federation, San Francisco Collaborative Against Human Trafficking, Jewish Coalition to End Human Trafficking and other organizations. She recently completed her 4th term on the Board of Trustees of Hastings College of the Law where she graduated class of 1983.

Deborah has been a top-producing Realtor in San Francisco for more decades than she likes to admit and has lived here for more than 50 years - with a short sojourn living in Ecuador building a B&B. Since 1998 she has been married to her Ecuadorian husband, Jorge and now speaks fluent Spanish. Her son and daughter + son-in-law live in the Bay Area and she is COVID sitting her 2 beloved granddaughters - Hanna (8) and Eliza (2).

Deborah is a fearless leader and fighter for women's rights in all forms and is still trying to accept the 2016 election results having worked hard for Hillary Clinton.
