NCJW San Francisco Next Generation

Emma Shaw is a senior at Lick-Wilmerding High School from San Francisco. She has worked extensively with the National Council of Jewish Women and the San Francisco Collaborative Against Human Trafficking for the past four years. She co-chaired Jewish Advocates in Action for a Critical COVID-19 Response with NCJW and served on the planning committee for SFCaHT's annual Anti-Human Trafficking Poster and Writing Contest and Summit. She has gained invaluable experience as an intern and is grateful for the skills, connections, and relationships she has made. Outside of work, she loves spending time with family and friends, playing tennis, and playing jazz piano. Emma hopes to bring her passion for social justice to college and beyond!
